

Wholesalers Of Essential Oils

Lala's Group

Explore the diversity of Essential oils

Environmental, Occupational Health

&

Safety Policy

Environmental, Occupational Health & Safety Policy:

Our Environmental, Occupational Health & Safety Policy is designed to cover better protection as well as restoration of environment. Recognizing burden which business activities can place on environment & surrounding human life, our well planned business structuring is aimed towards attaining clear vision towards pursuing delicate balance between economic development & environmental preservation. To reflect commitment of management towards compliance with applicable environmental regulations, we bring continual improvements of environmental management that is in place within the business operations.

We are maintaining Environmental, Occupational Health & Safety Policies to built a strong reputation in market. These policies mainly deal with healthy working conditions, secure transportation, storage, handling and many more. To ensure better productivity and results, we provide our employees appropriate and adequate training at every level.